

PRESS RELEASE

News from Digital Innovation, Inc.
For Immediate Release
Tuesday, October 19, 2005

Contact: Tim Favazza
tfavazza@dicorp.com
410-838-4034 X234

Digital Innovation, Inc. announces the release and availability of the enhanced Collector report writer module.

Forest Hill, MD – Digital Innovation, Inc. (DI) is proud to announce the release and availability of its latest module for its family of Collector trauma registry products – the DI Report Writer Module. The Report Writer Module has been officially released to the public and will be distributed to all eligible hospitals during a roll-out plan that is scheduled to begin in late October.

The enhanced report writer will work with all versions of Collector, including all customized versions. The report writer has powerful new features designed to streamline operations as well as bring additional ease-of-use benefits to support the report generation needs of our customers – the industry’s largest trauma registry user base. The report writer application, which now includes an enhanced charting feature, was enthusiastically received by the nearly 200 users who attended a demonstration of the product at the recent DI Trauma Users Conference. As a value-added service, DI will offer free training programs as part of the software’s release and optionally, a series of enhanced, fee-based training classes are being planned.

DI will send the newly enhanced, subscription-based report writer to all maintenance customers as part of their normal annual release cycle. Many county, regional, provincial, and statewide sites will be updated based on rollout plans that will be coordinated with their trauma registry system representatives. DI’s client services department will be in direct contact with the representatives of these systems over the coming weeks to schedule and coordinate the release – who in turn will be in contact with their member institutions. For all other individual hospital clients, DI will announce more details regarding the distribution process for the report writer in mid-November, when an on-line registration system will be introduced to enable maintenance customers to electronically register their request for the report writer and associated support services.

Digital Innovation, Inc. is a full service software solutions provider specializing in the design, development, and support of database management applications and associated application development tools. The company provides industry-leading products in several market segments, most notably the medical registry environment. With over 1,200 trauma registry customers, Digital Innovation is the leading vendor serving the trauma registry environment. Over 45 entire states, regions, or provinces have standardized on the Collector trauma registry application. Collector is a registered trademark of Digital Innovation.